UNITED STATES MINT COLLECTION

ORDER NOW FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

Dear Collector,

I am pleased to present the 2004 United States Mint Collection. This catalog contains our finest work and includes products that represent the United States Mint's commitment to excellence. These offerings showcase coins that celebrate our Nation of strength, ingenuity and exploration.

For the first time, the United States Mint introduces two coins that celebrate the coin-making and artistry of both the United States and the United Kingdom in one set. The "Legacies of Freedom" set features a visually stunning pair of silver bullion coins, the "Britannia" and the American Eagle "Walking Liberty" — two allegorical women who represent the strengths, freedoms and values that the two nations share.

The Thomas Alva Edison Commemorative Coin pays tribute to the genius of one of America's premier inventors. The incandescent light bulb forever changed the world, and this silver coin beautifully captures the image of Thomas Alva Edison and his famous invention.

As we commemorate the bicentennials of the Louisiana Purchase and the Lewis and Clark expedition, we usher in another distinguished year in coin design. For the first time ever, two newly designed 5-cent coins (nickels) entered circulation in the same year, a unique occasion befitting the commemoration of such monumental events as the Louisiana Purchase and the expedition of Lewis and Clark into the American West. Customers can join the exploration by collecting the Westward Journey Nickel Series™ through First Day Coin Covers and a special six-nickel set. The United States Mint also captures the Corps of Discovery's spirit of exploration with the Lewis & Clark Bicentennial Silver Dollar, also available in a handmade coin and pouch set.

Celebrating our Nation's strength, ingenuity and passion for exploration through United States Mint coins is a fitting way to mark this year — both in the history of our country and for the important milestones in your life. We invite you to select a numismatic offering from our 2004 Collection that exemplifies the excellence you have come to expect from the United States Mint.

Sincerely,

Henrietta Holsman Fore
Director
United States Mint

THOMAS ALVA EDISON COMMEMORATIVE COINS

The Wizard of Menlo Park

Thomas Alva Edison, considered by many to be one of this country's greatest inventors, believed "genius is one percent inspiration and 99 percent perspiration."

In just six short years, between 1876 and 1882, Edison and his co-workers, working out of his "invention factory" in Menlo Park, New Jersey, obtained more than 400 patents including perhaps his greatest achievement of all, the development of a practical incandescent light bulb.

This year marks the 125th anniversary of this historic event. Celebrate the life and achievements of this great American inventor with commemorative silver dollars from the United States Mint.

A portion of the proceeds from the sale of these limited-edition coins is authorized to be given to various Edison museums and organizations throughout the United States.
